

Here's your chance to give the MSRC your ideas about how to allocate millions of dollars in Clean Transportation Funding

The Mobile Source Air Pollution Reduction Review Committee (MSRC) is holding a series of workshops to receive input on its annual Work Program, which distributes approximately $14 million each year to projects designed to reduce emissions from mobile sources in the South Coast Air District.

The workshop agenda will include:

- A discussion about how the MSRC can help improve air quality in the South Coast region and assist the SCAQMD in meeting its clean air requirements
- A dialog among stakeholders about their clean air priorities and how the MSRC can help by considering funding for programs to meet these goals
